

RALPH GIERHARDS

ANTIQUES / FINE ART

A Pair of Blue John Columns

Circa: Circa 1800

Derbyshire/England around 1800 Columns resting on square plinths, with bronze beaded friezes at the ends. Until the early 19th century, vessels (vases, bowls, etc.) were made in England from a yellow-blue to white-blue banded solid fluorite mined in Derbyshire, which was nicknamed "Blue John" – from the French "bleu-jaune" for blue-yellow.

40 cm

15.748031496063

Circa 1800

Blue John

40 cm (15³/₄ nches)

England

Derbyshire/England around 1800

Columns resting on square plinths, with bronze beaded friezes at the ends.

Until the early 19th century, vessels (vases, bowls, etc.) were made in England from a yellow-blue to white-blue banded solid fluorite mined in Derbyshire, which was nicknamed "Blue John" – from the French "bleu-jaune" for blue-yellow.